

Accelerate your future for more potential.

Microsoft Dynamics™ is a line of financial, customer relationship, and supply chain management solutions that help businesses work more effectively. Certifications for Microsoft Dynamics emphasize both primary application skills and individual job roles, helping to ensure more relevant skills that can benefit you and your organization.

CERTIFICATIONS FOR MICROSOFT DYNAMICS AT A GLANCE:

- Microsoft Certified Business Management Solutions Specialist, designed for individuals who target specific job roles and want to distinguish themselves by demonstrating in-depth knowledge and expertise.
- Microsoft Certified Business Management Solutions Professional, designed for professionals who want to highlight their expertise in the areas of applications, developer, or installation and configuration.

Certification for Microsoft Dynamics highlights your expertise in

Applications

Installation and Configuration

Development

More options... ▶

Certifications for Microsoft Dynamics can benefit you and your Organization.

Microsoft Certified Business Management Solutions Specialist and Microsoft Certified Business Management Solutions Professional credentials help identify and distinguish your unique technical skill set using a Microsoft Dynamics or related business product.

- Certifications can help you get the most out of your training investment because the Microsoft Certified Business Management Solutions Specialist and Professional credentials are widely recognized and accepted as validation of solid technical skill and ability to excel with Microsoft Dynamics and related business products.
- Certifications can be the competitive advantage and broaden your career opportunities by adding credibility to your resume—which communicates a clear message of personal motivation and technical skill to recruiters.

Organizations that employ Microsoft Certified Business Management Solutions Specialists and Professionals can benefit from a complete approach to learning: Certified individuals usually have higher skills retention and increased productivity. Organizations can also potentially streamline their employee recruitment process and lower their external support costs and downtime by maintaining technically skilled employees when they require Microsoft Certified Business Management Solutions Specialist and Professional certifications.

Which certification is right for you?

Microsoft offers two levels of credentials and many certifications for every Microsoft Dynamics and related business products that focus on specific areas of expertise and job skills. Decide which credential is appropriate for you based on your experience, skills, roles, and interests.

The Microsoft Certified Business Management Solutions Specialist credential demonstrates your proficiency in one module of a Microsoft Dynamics or related business product. Microsoft Certified Business Management Solutions Specialists must pass a single certification exam to earn this title.

OR

The Microsoft Certified Business Management Solutions Professional credential shows an individual has completed a pre-determined set of required and elective certification exams. This demonstrates an individual's broad and deep knowledge of a Microsoft Dynamics product — more knowledge than what is needed to achieve a Microsoft Certified Business Management Solutions Specialist credential.

Many certifications are available under each of these credentials based on a Microsoft Dynamics or related business product and module/specialty area. Certifications are available for Microsoft Dynamics AX, Microsoft Dynamics GP, Microsoft Dynamics NAV, Microsoft Dynamics SL, Microsoft Dynamics CRM, Microsoft Dynamics Point of Sale, Microsoft Dynamics Retail Management System, Microsoft® FRX and Microsoft® Small Business Financials.

For more information...

Microsoft Partners should visit PartnerSource at <https://mbs.microsoft.com/partnersource/> and go to Training & Certification > Certification and Microsoft customers should visit CustomerSource at <https://mbs.microsoft.com/customersource/> and navigate to Training & Certification > Certification for details on the Microsoft Certified Business Management Solutions Specialist and Microsoft Certified Business Management Solutions Professional credentials and certifications.

Resources and requirements are updated frequently. Please refer to these Web sites for the most up-to-date information.

If you have additional questions about certifications for Microsoft Dynamics and related business products, please e-mail mbs-cert@microsoft.com.